

Josiah grew up in south east Pennsylvania where he grew up working on the farm and learning the skills of carpentry. After relocating several times throughout the county with his family, he has settled down in Gold Canyon where he pursues his passion for wood working. He especially enjoys working on the wood lathe turning bowls, cups, and rolling pins.