All of my life, I've been interested in art, photography, and horses. Inspired by nature and my passion as an equestrian, I'm drawn to subjects that convey a sense of serenity with dramatic light, beauty, and simplicity.

I graduated from Arizona State University with a BFA in Art Education with a concentration in Photography. I worked as a photographer for the university, did freelance work, and also was an Art Director at Valle del Sol, a Phoenix based community service organization. Then, I taught at the elementary, junior high, high school and college levels. I taught 2 years in general art and 32 years in commercial and fine art photography. While teaching, I earned my Master's Degree from ASU in Educational Media and Computers. In 2013, I earned my National Board Certification in Art. After retirement, I taught workshops for Arizona Highways Photoscapes.

My personal photographic interests include equestrian, landscape, wildlife, portraiture, and documentary work. Recently, I've been exploring macro photography, floral images, astrophotography, and abstract creations. I hope you enjoy my work as much as I enjoy discovering my subjects.
