

Artist, Delores Kunz

Hello Artists of the Superstitions, my name is Delores Kunz. I love making jewelry with stone. I am a newcomer with my art and am constantly learning. I love all the different types of stones and the feel of stone. I enjoy putting the different types of stones together and making something I feel is interesting yet pretty to wear.

My family moved to AZ in 1960 to escape the winters in Kansas. We instantly fell in love with the AZ desert. On weekends my family would travel to Apache Lake going by the Superstition Mountains. My dad told me the folklore of the Lost Dutchman and we would always stop at the Blue Bird Mine to get a cold pop because of course the cars didn't have refrigeration in those days so everyone was very hot and thirsty. The mountain always held such a mystic feeling over me. I couldn't get enough of its beauty. Now, 40 years later I have the greatest fortune to be living where my heart is.
