

Who would have thought that I'd still be playing with dolls at my advanced age? The Father Christmas figures (art dolls) that I create are one of a kind, most with faces hand sculpted by me. I carefully choose fabric and accessories to create the effect I imagine. Most are suitable for display year-round, especially the Western inspired ones, as they are not done in typical Christmas colors/themes. In addition to these figures, over the years I've done collage, painting, drawing, and jewelry making. Before I retired, my main occupations included interior decorator, and antique dealer.
